

REVEALS BOYNTON SECRETS

AYERS HEARD SOUNDS OF SCUFFLE; SAW WIFE WITH BLACKENED FACE

Pastor William B. Ayers of the Park and Downs Union Congregational Church of Wollaston made startling revelations* of the home life of Chester A. Boynton and his wife, Mrs. Helen Willett Boynton, during the minister's cross-examination this afternoon. The preacher was on the stand in his own defence in the $25,000 alienation suit brought against him by Boynton.

HEARD SOUNDS OF SCUFFLE IN BOYNTON'S ROOM.

On this same occasion, the minister testified, he himself had carried whiskey and spirits of ammonia from his own room to that in which were the Boytons. He did this at the husband's request.

Pastor Ayers declared the testimony in the trial ended at 11:45 o'clock this afternoon. Boynton was the last witness to testify. Court that there was no influence she exercised over him that "suggested" the charges of which she was so careful of his reputation.

He denied every one of Boynton's charges against him. He said he had never "instigated" the wife's society to find out any unchangeling. He said he would not deny that he was in her society more

GOOD SLEEP;

STILL GAINS

ROME, April 11.—Continued improvement was shown today in the condition of Pious Hwa X., who is ill at the Vatican.

The minister frequently made mention of the name of Pious Sza, the choir girl. He told the jury that the girl once fainted when she came to the church altar to take communion. Asked if her emotion might not have overcome her, Pastor Avers replied:

"Yes, sir, a young girl might be so overcome, but not so much as to threaten right away to commit suicide."

At noon the windows of the sick room were opened for the first time in four days. Dr. Marchevalla said that the fresh air and warm sunlight would be beneficial to the patient. At the same time Dr. Marchevalla said that practically all the symptoms of fever had passed.

Phylisina announced that the Pope's temperature had risen slightly, and at that hour was ninety-nine. He was unable to attend the celebration of the pilgrims who visited the Vatican. However, he received a two hours' visit from his sister, Livia Urte. A mass was said during the day in the chapel of the pontiff repeating a prayer while sitting up in bed.

Heroine Plunges Into River, Saving Little Girl's Life

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., April 11.—Miss Marie Prior, a thirteen-year-old graduate of the Portsmouth High School, made a brave and successful rescue of a little child at noon today. Miss Prior was walking along the banks of the Piscataqua River at Newington in company with Amelia Garland, four years old. The child suddenly slipped on a rock and fell into the river, which at this point is 10 to 12 feet deep. Throwing aside her wraps, Miss Prior jumped after the child and, keeping it head above water, brought it to the opposite bank where she laid the little one on the bank.

Miss Prior is now in study for the profession of nurse in a Boston hospital.

CALIFORNIA'S FAIR BUILDING PLANS DRAWN

The following telegram from Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, was received by the Board of Panama-Pacific Managers for Massachusetts this morning. It sets forth plainly the plans of California relative to a State building. It explains away all the doubts and misconceptions raised by an unfounded report to the effect that California would not have a State building.

This is President Moore's statement: The report that California is not to have a State building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition is ridiculous. It comes from an editor's misquoting of a published statement by Governor Johnson.

The State has appropriated $5,000,000 for the exposition and also passed a bill permitting the various counties to levy a special tax for exposition purposes which will amount to about $5,000,000, thus making the contribution of the State between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000 in addition to $12,500,000 from San Francisco.

Representatives of some of the counties acting independently of the exposition and without its active support, introduced a bill for further special appropriation from the State for another State building in order to conserve the funds raised under their special tax.

Governor Johnson declined to introduce this proposition on the ground that the nine or ten million dollars from the State was sufficient. His statement referred solely to the proposed bill and was not intended to have any bearing whatever on the general question of a State building. He has issued a strong statement which we are giving the press tonight, protesting against the distortion of his statement in which he says:

"Reports that have been sent broadcast to the effect that the State has turned down the proposition of did not intend to exhibit are wholly untrue. We are giving the press tonight a statement which is a generous and unparalled in the history of expositions, have placed at the disposal of the Panama-Pacific Exposition ten million dollars, and, in addition, have empowered the counties to levy a tax of six cents on each hundred dollars of assessed value for exposition purposes. Of course, out of these various sums an appropriate State building will be constructed."

The question never was as to whether a State building will be built, but only from what fund the money will be taken from. There is no real estate bill as a California building that will do credit to the State and to the nation which the representative as houses. The plans for this building have already been drawn.

INCENDIARY FIRE IN SOMERVILLE IMPERILS FAMILY

A fire which Chief Rich of Somerville declares was incendiary came near destroying the lives of an entire family early today in the wooden two-story building No. 48 Hanson street, Somerville. The fire started in an unoccupied room in the rear of the barber shop on the second floor, which is owned by Frank F. Oles. When the officer on the beat saw the flames and gave the alarm the upper part of the house, occupied by Antonio Talerio, his wife and three small children, was filled with dense smoke. The firemen were unable to get up the stairs and had to rescue the family by ladders.

JUDGERS REVEAL TRAP UPON BAD EGG SALES

The Suffolk Grand Jury today continued the investigation of the rotten egg traffic in Boston.

The Grand Jury's action follows the exposure printed in the AMERICAN, when it was shown that an immense quantity of decomposed and rotten eggs were sold to Boston makers, who used them in making cakes and pies. Quizzes were killed by a selection of a few drops of some of these eggs.

Before their publication in the AMERICAN, these facts in outline were submitted to the District Attorney, Mr. Fletcher promptly instituted an investigation and declared that if he found the facts substantiated the charges he would submit evidence on the subject to the Grand Jury.

Several additional witnesses have been summoned to testify today. Employees of second firm testified yesterday. Mrs. T. Madeline, who, although she had never had any dealings with the egg dealer, Mr. Cassidy's investigation and told her story.

Mrs. Madeline was expected to tell of her dealings with Mr. Brown and the Western Egg Company and ordering "liquid" eggs. She would testify, it was expected, to the delivery of these eggs at her father's shop No. 100 North Street, Atlantic Boulevard, or No. 11, Avery street, in South Boston.

Mr. Cassidy's director J. E. Rosenberg, and the Standard Egg Company, was also a witness.

Charges in AMERICAN.

The charges made in the AMERICAN, upon which this investigation was based, were as follows:

A number of cans in the field store were purchased from a group of No. 1711 Fulton street. The eggs were purchased in a quantity of several hundred dozen, taken from the cans were shipped to art. Mrs. Rosenberg, of Philadelphia, Dr. Rosenberg ranks as one of the leading experts on the egg business in the country.

In the samples purchased from Morris Brown, Dr. Rosenberg found quantities of bacteria, resulting into several million per cubic centimeter. Bacteria or germs, in eggs, indicate the presence of dirt, or that the egg was decomposed.

A check was kept upon Brown's establishment—the dirt in the eggs were followed and an approximate list of his customers, with the names of the egg buyers, was obtained.

A number of samples of eggs were purchased in the same manner from the Western Egg Company. Dr. Rosenberg found them, also, to be rank with bacteria or germs—evidence of decomposition or dirt. The vapors of this rank were likewise followed and a list of some of their customers was secured.

Watched Establishments.

The same methods were used in investigating the business of the Standard Egg Company and of J. E. Rosenberg. Eggs from both establishments were found full of bacteria. Their establishments were watched and at the end of a month's work evidence was collected tending to show the existence of an enormous traffic in bad eggs, for food purposes, in Boston. The AMERICAN's food campaign, and especially this bad egg exposure, has caused a host of alterations. Allen E. Briggs, executive secretary of the Fruit and Produce Exchange, wrote an article on "Infected Eggs," contending that many eggs sold in the city are in the shell which are all right if broken into cans.

Professor W. T. Sedgwick, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, testified at a legislative hearing that in the opinion opinion eggs were not unhealthy. His assertions are contrary to the beliefs of the majority of scientists and physicians, and it is said to say no consumer will endorse Professor Sedgwick to the extent of eating rotten eggs if he knows it.

Many Witnesses Called.

The witnesses summoned included the following:

Russell Black, Nathan Kittenburg and Joseph Langer, former employees of the Western Egg Company.

Hymus Taper, former employee of Morris Brown, egg dealer.

Russell and Abraham Get, employees of other egg dealers.

Harry F. Cassidy, the Boston AMERICAN's pure food expert.

R. A. Williams, Mr. Cassidy's assistant.

Rose Berlin and Anna Gordon, former employees of egg dealers.

Max Richmond, an employee of the Standard Egg Company, and Janet Primus, also an employee of an egg company.

Over $150,000.00 Paid Yearly in Salaries to the Designers of the Standard Brands of Men's Clothing Sold by N. Sallinger On Credit

ONE firm alone pays its designer a salary of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars a year. To retain this designer this house was recently obliged to take him into the firm.

To standardize a brand of clothing, which means to make it well known throughout the country as a product of standard value, the makers are obliged to spend thousands of dollars in the designing of styles. Fashion decrees a change in style every year. The best and leading styles are the creations of the high-priced designers. Makers of cheap, non-standard clothing attempt imitation of the work of the leading designers and, of course, necessarily are months behind the season in style and cannot be considered as Standard Brands. They have no original artistic high-priced creators of fashion, and of course their product cannot be standard. A man should never buy anything in ready-tailored clothing outside of the Standard Brands.

High Art Clothes (Standard Brand)—Strouse & Bros. "High Art Clothes" of Baltimore, Md.; clothes of quality, suitable for the conservative dresser.
Character Clothes (Standard Brand) of New York city; the highest grade strictly union-made garment.
Lincoln Brand (Standard Brand) of Boston; the best, medium-priced clothes made.

The Richard System Clothes (Standard Brand) of New York city; the highest class ready-for-service garments in America.

Griffon Clothes (Standard Brand) of Baltimore; "Faddy" clothes for young men.

Adler's Clothes (Standard Brand) of Milwaukee; the famous "Collegian" brand; clothes of a national reputation—extremely smart.

National Student Clothes (Standard Brand) of New York city; style, quality and price are all combined in this brand; especially adapted for the youth.

R. B. Fashion Clothes (Standard Brand) of Rochester, N. Y.; the "snappiest" clothes in America for the clever dresser.

Frankel System Clothes (Standard Brand) of New York city; including the famous Frankel $15.00 Suit, the best suit made for this price in America.

The above high-class Standard Brands and also other leading well advertised Standard Brands (names of which we cannot mention for business reasons) may be secured on credit through the Peoples Credit Co. for

The House on the Marsh

A CELEBRATED NOVEL BY FLORENCE WARDEN

THE house on the marsh was a small, white, two-story building, with a red-tiled roof and a small porch. It was situated on a grassy bank overlooking a body of water. The house was surrounded by a low wall, and there was a small garden in front of it. The water was calm, and the sky was blue with a few white clouds. The house was the only one of its kind in the area, and it was a popular place for people to visit.

As the door opened, I saw a man standing in the doorway. He was a tall, thin man with a long, dark beard and a white shirt. He was looking at me with a serious expression. I felt a little nervous, but I stepped forward and greeted him. He smiled and said, "Welcome to the house on the marsh. I am Mr. Jones, the owner of this place. I am glad to have you here."

Mr. Jones showed me to a room on the second floor. It was a small, cozy room with a fireplace and a window overlooking the water. I sat down on the bed and looked out the window. The water was calm, and the sky was blue. I felt a sense of peace and tranquility. I had found a place where I could relax and enjoy the view.

As I sat on the bed, I thought about the house on the marsh. It was a beautiful place, and I was glad to have found it. I had heard that it was a popular place for people to visit, and now I knew why. It was a peaceful and beautiful place, and I was glad to have found it.

Young Women Fitted for Greater Usefulness at Free Trade School for Girls

Miss Florence E. Leadbetter, master of the Free Trade School for Girls.

When you hear all the news about the world, it is a little hard to believe that there are still people who are not fitted for greater usefulness. But that is the truth. There are still people who are not fitted for greater usefulness. But that is the truth. There are still people who are not fitted for greater usefulness. But that is the truth.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

THE floors and doors appear to wait until the dust germs congregate on the housewife's heels each dawn. Says she: "My work will NEVER end; o'er dust stretches I must bend, until, with aching back and hands I finish what the day demands."

Then Mrs. Jones, one afternoon, dropped in, at time most opportune. An optimist, she knew the woes of household work—the aches and smiles. She told of how she polished floors and woodwork and the endless doors, until when Hubby saw them, too, reflections said: "Why, howdy-dol!"

"The Gold Dust Twins," said she, "I find, help leave the woes of dust behind. Each mark of sticky hands on doors, each stain of muddy feet on floors, all fade before the slightest touch of Gold Dust, and the work is such that, when the woodwork has been done, I find said work was only fun." This line of reasoning must show that those who've tried it OUGHT to know. If you, in one day's duties, find that there's a Grouch in ev'ry Grind, invite the Gold Dust Twins to share such tasks as tire and fret and wear.

From kitchen floor to bedroom suits, these tireless little chaps make neat, and best of all, the sum expense is measured up in meager cents. They put both dust and dirt to rout and run the last old microbe out.
